Webster Names Mark Kuenzli Chain and Components Operations Manager

TIFFIN, Ohio - Webster Industries, Inc., an industry leader in conveyor chain, is pleased to announce the promotion of Mark Kuenzli to Chain and Components Operations Manager.

Kuenzli recently accepted a new role at Webster in the manufacturing sector of the business. This position will aid the shop floor in coordinating with sales, engineering and scheduling to improve the safety, quality and manufacturing efficiencies that are required to build Webster's products. Kuenzli's personality and 20 years of manufacturing industry experience make him a great fit for this new role of leadership. "I am very excited to be a part of the leadership team for an established, industry leading company. I truly enjoy dealing with the most important assets of our company; our people," said Kuenzli. Throughout his career, Kuenzli has had a variety of roles within manufacturing. Most recently, Kuenzli served as Webster's Maintenance/Tool Room Manager. Prior to this position, he has held the title of Operations Manager at Cooper Tire and Punch Press Supervisor at Webster.

“Mark’s past work experience gives Mark a unique view of the opportunities at Webster from both a personnel and equipment capabilities standpoint,” said Nick Spurck, Vice President of Manufacturing of Webster.

Spurck went on to say, “Mark’s personality helps him model the behavior that we want our personnel to exhibit. He works with people to help them better themselves. In turn, we have a better company from the ground up.”
